

Introducing RockPlates™ by Till Guitars

You won't find genuine RockPlates by Till Guitars in many stores, I'm afraid. Times are such that most retailers have to rely on selling cheap imports at ridiculous markups to pay their ridiculously high rents. A tough situation for sure. At their markup, they'd have to charge a hundred dollars apiece for these. And I'd have to start mass producing them, lowering the quality to keep up with demand, and turning into a real boss.

Sorry, not gonna happen.

Instead, I just have to look harder for cool places, owned by real people with an appreciation for handmade American crafts. I've already found a few. I list them as I find them here. I'd really appreciate hearing from you about any stores near you that might want to offer some of these for sale.

If you ask me, the easiest way to buy one is to write to me. Just tell what you want. If I have one ready I can send it right away. If not, I can put one on the barbie. I can bill you through Paypal or we can make other arrangements. I'm in favor of other arrangements.

Because I'm making RockPlates regularly, I can usually get right to your custom orders. As with my guitars, wood selections are only limited to availability. You're even welcome to provide your own material.

Click on Page 2 for prices and styles. Please note that each model is available for both Toggle and Decora/Rocker switches as well as in the form of a Coaster or Picture Frame.

Any color can be applied to any shape I make. Just ask.
